

Evangelical Lutheran Church, Waynesboro PA
Hosting traveling art exhibit Icons In Transformation
November 19, 2022 through January 28, 2023

A full schedule of events is on tap at Evangelical Lutheran Church in Waynesboro to commemorate the exhibit, Icons in Transformation, Nov. 19 through Jan. 28.

The traveling display hosted by the church will feature contemporary works by Ludmila Pawlowska, an international artist with Ukrainian-roots, and traditional Orthodox Icons from Vassilevsky Monastery, Suzdal, Russia. Pawlowska encourages people to make their own interpretations from her modern, three-dimensional artwork, some of which is painted onto pieces of wood standing nearly 10 feet tall, as well as sculptures.

She and her husband, Jan Lech, of Sweden, will be on hand for a reception, open to the public, set for 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday Nov. 19 at the church, 43 S. Church St.

Self-guided tours of the exhibit, featuring more than 100 pieces of artwork, will be available from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesdays through Thursdays starting Nov. 22 (excluding Thanksgiving). The exhibit will be open with docents from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Thursdays starting Dec. 1, as well as Sundays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. starting Nov. 27 (excluding Christmas Day and New Year's Day).

There will be concerts at 4 p.m. on Sundays in the sanctuary, starting with an organ recital Dec. 4, a concert by the Towne Singers Dec. 18, a choral concert Jan. 8 and a concert by the Appalachian Winds Jan. 22.

Lectures by faculty of the United Lutheran Seminary in Gettysburg/Philadelphia in connection with the exhibit also will be offered in the sanctuary at 7 p.m. Thursdays Dec. 1, 8 and 15.

The last day of the exhibit and a closing reception will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 28. Admission to all events is free.

Intended as a source of inspiration, the display is intended "to reflect the nature of a spiritual experience, allowing the viewer to rediscover the qualities of form, depth and wealth in religious content and the language of iconography used in a contemporary form," according to Pawlowska. The exhibit has been seen by more than 3 million people since it began in 1998.

A portion of the proceeds from the sale of Pawlowska's art will be donated to the Ukrainian Refugee relief efforts.

For more information about the exhibit, visit www.elchome.org or call 717-762-9151.

For more information about Pawlowska, visit: www.ludmilapawlowska.se